B R A N D Peony Farms

Fall 1923 Spring 1924

Faribault, Minn.

As the reading matter which our catalog contains remains about the same from one edition to another, we do not issue a new descriptive catalog of peonies only as our supply becomes exhausted. Those of our customers who have our 1922-23 catalog have our latest and will not receive another copy unless they write for the same. However, prices vary from year to year, and consequently we send out a yearly price list, a copy of which we hand you herewith. The prices herein given supersede all previous prices sent out by us.

PECUITES DISCOUNTS. At the prices given in this price list you may select $11.00 worth of roots for $10.00; $27.50 worth for $25.00; $57.50 for $50.00; $120.00 worth for $100.00. If cash reaches us before shipment, but not otherwise, the above discounts may be taken. There is no discount what-ever on the one eye or small divisions. TERMS: Remittance may be made by Post Office Order, Bank Draft, Express Money Order or personal check made payable to the Brand Peony Farms. ORDERS: Orders should be sent in as early in the sea-son as possible. We commence digging September 1st and begin shipping out about the 6th. Orders should be in before shipments begin, that you may be sure to get all the varieties you want. SUBSTITUTIONS: We never intentionally substitute in filling a peony order. If upon receipt of an order we find we cannot fill it entire, we always write our customer sug-gesting substitutions of varieties similar in color and sea-son, and if suggested substitutions are not acceptable we return the money. But where customers are not particu-substitut substitute and is used to bus the variet of the variet return the money. But where customers are not particu-lar about varieties and give us permission to substitute if necessary, we will always use our very best judgment and guarantee satisfaction.

necessary, we will always use our very best judgment and guarantee satisfaction. SHIPMENTS: Orders for from one to three roots can generally go cheapest by Parcel Post. We will gladly ship by Parcel Post all small orders if the customer will remit with the order ten cents extra per root ordered. Fairly large packages should go by express. Orders of 50 roots or more, if the varieties are not of the very ex-pensive sorts, can safely go by freight if the customer is not in too much of a hurry, as we pack freight shipments so they will be perfectly safe on the road, even if in transit three or four weeks. VISITOKS: Our peony fields lie just a mile from the business section of Faribault. They are located on East for East Division Street and follow the sidewalk to its end, and you will be at the entrance of the Nursery. Visitors are always welcome, and will be met by appointment at train any time. Our Office Phone 670. House Phone 641-J. SIZE OF ROOT: We have been actively engaged in the peony business on a large scale ever since 1867. During the course of these many years we have tried out almost all theories relating to the best and safest methods to be pursued in the handling of the peony. It is our honest conviction based upon this experience that what is known in the peony trade as the 3- to 5-eye division, when prop-erly trimmed back, is the most satisfactory peony root to plant. plant.

erly trimmed back, is the most satisfactory peony root to plant. But during the course of the last three or four years a practice has grown up in this country of sending out a smaller division of the rare and costly varieties at a cor-responding reduction in price. Now we have always in all sincerity advised against this practice, as we forcese for it only the very saddest of results. The planting of the small division in the first instance is all right, but it is the carrying of the practice to its ultimate results that leads to disaster. We are afraid that the demand for one-eye divisions will become so great that it will lead people not familiar with the principles of propagation to divide their plants every year or two to supply this demand. Such a procedure can lead only to the lessening of the vitality of the stock and will in course of time destroy its desirability. Some of our very finest varieties are weak in constitution and very sparing of bloom, the direct re-sults of this practice. But notwithstanding our constant advice as to the danger of this practice in the peony trade, there is an increasing demand for these small di-visions and we have decided this year to furnish small divisions of those choice varieties where the regular price is not less than $5.00 per root, and where our stock of the variety is such as will make it advisable for us to do so. THE BRAND PEONIES

THE BRAND PEONIES

THE BRAND PEONIES Originated by O. F. BRAND and A. M. BRAND. We wish to say a few words about those varieties of the Peony originated by the Brands, father and son. Mr. O. F. Brand planted his first peony seed in the fall of 1899. That some fall just a few weeks before this first planting of seed was made, A. M. Brand, the son, returned from his youthful wanderings and entered into business with his father. At this time the nursery firm of O. F. Brand and Son was formed, and father and son worked to-gether in bringing out new peonies for a period of eleven years. It was during these years that this list of peonies was produced that has made the name of the Brands as Peony Originators known throughout the world. It was during these years that the Brand Varieties, Brand's Mag-nificent, Chas. McKellip, Chestine Gowdy, David Harum, Desire, E. B. Browning, Frances Willard, Judge Berry, Longfellow, Lora Dexheimer, Luetta Pfeiffer, Martha Bul-loch, Mary Brand, Mrs. A. G. Ruggles, Mrs. Jennie R. Gowdy, Phoebe Cary, Richard Carvel and Winifred Domme were originated. It has taken a good many years for this line of neonies Jomme were originated. It has taken a good many years for this line of peonles to receive the recognition which was its due. But the second symposium of the American Peony Society, which appears in Bulletin No. 14 of the society gives one a very good idea of their comparative merits. This symposium shows how the world's best varieties, old and new, are rated by peony lovers. A study of this symposium shows the following facts: Of the 77 varieties which received 20 or more votes and which scored between S and 9, five are Brand Varieties. Their scores are as follows:

Chestine Gowdy8.4
Talas Denna Od
Judge Berry8.6
Lora Dexheimer8.4
Mary Brand8.7
Richard Carvel

(2) Of the 22 varieties which received 20 or more votes and which scored between 9 and 10, four are Brand Va-rieties. Their scores are as follows:

E. B. Browning
Frances Willard
Longfellow
Martha Bulloch .

(3) Of the world's best red varieties only 8 ranked 8.5 or above, and of these 8 reds three are Brand Varieties. Their scores are as follows:

Richard Carvel								• •	 .8.8

TWENTIETH H ANNUAL PEONY SHOW NATIONAL SOCIETY. OF

The twentieth annual show of the American Peony So-ciety was held this year at St. Paul, Minnesota, half way between the twin cities of St. Paul and Minneapolis in the immense Hippodrome Building of the State Fair Associa-tion. It is estimated that between fifty and sixty thou-sand blooms were used in the different displays and in the decoration of the show room, which was entirely filled with flowers. with flowers.

with flowers. This was by far the greatest show ever put on by the National Society. The great peony growers of the country were practically all there with their flowers. The Thur-lows of Massachusetts brought a car of blooms by express which arrived in magnificent shape. Competition was very keen. We took to the show two car loads of peony blooms, each bud individually wrapped. This was an immense task and took six of us working steadily for ten days to accomplish

BRAND PEONY FARMS TAKE FIRST PRIZE AND GOLD MEDAL.

The greatest class in the show is Class One, which calls for a display of not more than one hundred varieties double, one bloom of each. The winner of first in this class receives a $50.00 cash prize and the Society's Gold Medal. Both of these were awarded the Brand Peony Warms Farms.

Our entry in this class contained eighty-two varieties, and of these eighty-two varieties, thirty-three kinds were of our own production.

and of these eighty-two varieties, thirty-three kinds were of our own production. We also made a display of twenty-two varieties of en-tirely new seedlings, none of which have ever been sent out as yet. We are not afraid to say that this display of new seedling peonies was the greatest and best display of new seedling peonies ever put on at one time by an origi-nator throughout all time. It included, besides some won-derful sorts which were listed under number, such marvel-ous new varieties as Mrs. A. M. Brand, an immense pure white, which was given the Society's Gold Medal, and Myrtle Gentry, a most beautiful pink that received the Society's Silver Medal. The two varieties, Hansina Brand, pink, and Mrs. Frank Beach, white, were shown at Lon-don, Ontario, last year, and given awards of merit. Other new ones were Mrs. Romaine B. Ware, Mrs. John M. Kleitsch, Mrs. F. A. Goodrich, Hazel Kinney, Ella Chris-tiansen and Laverne Christman, which received an award of merit. Upon these new seedlings we are making a uniform price of $50.00 per root for delivery fall of 1925. At the show during three hours Thursday afternoon we booked orders for one hundred roots at these prices. This fact alone will give one a good idea of the quality of the seedlings. seedlings.

SELECTED IRIS

SELECTED IRIS Why the Iris is so Popular: Every garden must have iris nowadays. There are many reasons for the increasing demand for iris. In the first place, the flowers are as beautiful as the rarest orchids. Their form is perhaps more distinctive and their coloring more varied. Many new varieties have been brought out in the last few years and they have given us new colors and wonderful new combination of color. In a field of iris all shades, from the palest lavender to the deepest purple, and from the most delicate cream to the deepest plue, and deep blue, pink, rose, maroon and bronze. Now, if never before, the flower justifies its name, iris, the rain-bow.

bow. Then it comes when the garden needs color. The blooms of the early spring bulbs have gone, the tulips are pass-ing, and the peonies have not yet come. If varieties are well chosen and plants are suitably located and grouped. the iris furnishes a show which while less gorgeous than that of the peony, is more varied and delicate in coloring. Cultivation:

Cultivation: Iris should be planted in a sunny location. The soil should be dry and well drained. Unlike the wild flag, the garden iris cannot stand water around the roots. It should not be planted deep. The bulb, or rhizome, should be just below the surface of the ground. The roots should be spread out and the soil packed around them. No fer-tilizer should touch the rhizomes. A little very well rotted manure may be applied to the surface of the ground. Bone meal and finely ground limestone are good fertilizers. Iris soon forms big clumps with masses of rhizomes and roots, which are likely to rot, it is hard to keep grass out of these clumps. For these reasons iris should be taken up, divided, freed from grass roots, and reset once in four or five years. The best time to do this, as well as to make new plantings, is soon after the blooming season. July and August are probably the best months for plant-ing iris but it may be planted any time during the year when not in bloom or when the ground is not frozen. Root Rot: The only disease that the iris growen has to contend when not Root Rot:

Root Rot: The only disease that the iris grower has to contend with is rot. It generally appears in a warm wet season. The best way to avoid rot is to look around and find some old plaster, perhaps where a house is being torn down. Pul-verize this and scatter it liberally in the trenches in which plants are to be set. It will not hurt the plants. In all plantings, large or small, the best results will be obtained by planting groups of one variety together, groups being so arranged as to harmonize with each other. For this reason we are offering a very low price on three of a kind. DESCRIPTIVE LIST
